20,000 LEAGUES UNDER THE SEA

First and Greatest Story of a Submarine Beat By JULES VERNE

IT BEATS THE DEUTSCHLAND!

There is no story of such timely and absorbing interest as this wonderfully prophetic world-famous classic relating strange, thrilling adventures concerned with a craft of the deep conceived by the most inventive writer in the history of fiction years before the skill of man produced the terrible U-hoat.

to twelve, the sun, then seen only by refraction, isolated like a golden disc shedding to lear rays upon the description are true and framed averal transfer for the part water and it caused granul alone where true and framed averal transfer for continent and seens which never man had yet ploughed. Capt. Nemo, frights Abraham Lineaus remained by Capt. which by means of a mirror, corrected the refraction, watched the order part in the part was plant like as anyoner of whales, and had been a large for its thill as a harponer of whales, momenter is discovered their the captions of the hard from the and the frights is struck. There is no and the frights is struck. There is no desired to the understand partial based to the understand partial based for the character of the character of the structure to be a submarion. As and the frights is struck. There is no desired to the understand partial based for the character of the character of the character of the character of the surface of the character of the surface partial capt. If the disappearance of the half-disc of the character of the fall the relations of the twelve relock on the chromometer, we were at the pole (taelf.

"Twelvel" I exclaimed.

"The Bouth Pole" replied Capt. Name, it is a grave voice, landing me the glass, which showed the orbits to be the orbits of the surface of the same and main of harrier in the followed to discover the follow of the same and main of harrier in the followed to discover the followed to dis him standing on a block of ant orb! rest beneath this open sea, basalt, his instruments near him, his and let a night of six months spread eyes a ved on the northern horizon, near its shadows over my new domains!" which the sun was then describing a engthened curve. I took my place iceide him, and waited without speak-ing. Noon arrived, and, as before, the sun did not appear. It was a fatality.

be the equinox; the sun would dismonths, and with dis disappearance September equinox it had rising by lengthened spirals up to the 21st of December. At this period the summer solstice of the northern regions, it had begun to descend, and to-morrow was to shed its last rays upon them. I communicated my fears and observations to Capt. Nemo.

"You are right, M. Aronnax," said he: "If to-morrow I cannot take the altitude of the sun, I shall not be able to do it for six months. But precisely because chance has led me into these seas on the list of March, my bearings will be easy to take, if at 12 we can

(Costinued.)

The South Pole.

Thaif past il we had reached the place where we landed. The boat had run aground, bringing the captain. I saw him standing on a block of thence we looked upon a vast a.a., which, toward the north distinctly traced its boundary line upon the sky. At our feet lay fields of dazsiling whiteness. Over our heads a pale agure, free from fog. To the north the disc of the sun seemed like a bail of fire, already horned by the cutting of the horizon.

From the bosom of the water rose sheeves of liquid jets by hundreds. In the distance lay the Nautilus like a cetacean asleep on the water. Behind us, to the south and east, an implement of the sun seemes country, and a chaptle heap of rocks and lee, the limits of which were not visible. On arriving at the summit, Capt. Nemo carefully took the mean height of the barometer, the mean height of the barometer, the mean height of the barometer, are subjected in the provided have to consider that in the made on board the Nauthus like were not visible. On arriving at the summit, Capt. Nemo carefully took the mean height of the barometer, are subjected in the provided have to consider that in the provided him the provided have to consider that in the provided him the pro

Order The Evening World Mailed to Your Summer Address

Speakfast we will go on showed on the season of the cases. The band foot with me Capture and a control with me Capture and a control with the sales of the season of the capture and a control with the sales of the season of the capture and a control with the sales of the sales. The sales are all the master? Tail I is the master?

and Lieutenant of the Nauti-

NEXT WEEK'S COMPLETE NOVEL THE NEW COMMANDMENT

By ANTHONY VERRALL

The story of a Kentucky feud hatred transplanted in a desert paris, where a man and a woman, turned primitive by necessity, come at last to love as intensely as they had hated.

BEGINS IN NEXT MONDAY'S EVENING WORLD will be say to take, if at 11 we can be the sum."

"The wall part do the property of the prope